Wave 1 Baseline Survey: Deliberative Online Poll

(Experimental Group Only)

INTRO1

After this first survey is done, we'll ask you to participate in eight online chat sessions. You will participate in two sessions a week spread out over four weeks. Note that there will be a two-week break in the chat session calendar due to the holidays. Your scheduled weekday and times will be the same for each week.

You are scheduled to participate in the following sessions:

[Display scheduled time here]

It is very important that you attend each of these sessions. If you have a scheduling conflict, we encourage you to make the chat session a priority. If you are absolutely unable to attend a chat session, please contact deliberativepoll@knowledgenetworks.com immediately. Please note this may affect your eligibility to participate in the project.

Our first questions are about international affairs and foreign policy.

Thinking back on the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11th, 2001, how would you say America has changed as a result? Would you say it has changed...

a lot for the better,
 somewhat for the better,
 somewhat for the worse,
 a lot for the worse,
 not much in either direction,
 haven't thought much about this

Q2

Here are several possible long range foreign policy goals the U.S. might have. Please select how high a priority you feel we should give to each one by using a number from 0 to 10, where 0 is no priority at all, 5 is average priority, and 10 is the top priority.

On a scale from 0-10, how high a priority should each of the following be as a long range foreign policy goal?

protecting the global environment ensuring adequate energy supplies for the U.S.
preventing the spread of weapons of mass destruction aiding the interests of U.S. business abroad fighting terrorism providing food and medical help to poor countries protecting the U.S. from attack protecting human rights in other countries protecting weaker nations against foreign aggression reducing world poverty

Q32A

Below are three different ways the U.S. might deal with international trade. Please select which you feel is the best option.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

to work with other countries one by one to establish agreements,
to work with groups of countries through international institutions like the World Trade Organization,
to leave things as they are,
haven't thought much about this

IF Q32A = 1,2,3

Q32B

Now of the remaining options, please select which you feel is the best.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

[Display Items NOT selected in Q32A]

Q33

What do you think we should do about free trade in the Americas -

repeal the North American Free Trade Agreement, called NAFTA, leave NAFTA the way it is,
adopt agreements like NAFTA but with more Latin American countries,
haven't thought much about this

Q34

Do you think that making it easier to IMPORT foreign products into the U.S. means -

the LOSS OF many jobs in this country,
some jobs,
only a few jobs,
the loss of no jobs,
haven't thought much about this

Q35

Do you think that making it easier to EXPORT U.S. products to other countries means -

Q36

When it comes to trade barriers, would you say that the U.S. has -

higher trade barriers (than most other countries),
lower trade barriers (than most other countries),
about the same, or haven't you heard anything about this?

Q37

Now we'd like you to think about reducing terrorism. Again using a scale from 0 to 10, where 0 is no importance at all, 10 is the most importance, and 5 is midway between, how much importance should the U.S. place on each of the following as ways of reducing FUTURE terrorism directed against the U.S.?

encouraging more democracy in Middle East countries like Egypt & Saudi Arabia?

increased foreign aid to countries that may be breeding grounds for terrorism?

adopting policies more favorable to the Palestinians?

building up our military capabilities?

working with other countries to identify & combat terrorism?

building up our intelligence capabilities?

Q38

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in trying to resolve international conflicts? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,

should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,

should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through the United Nations,

should the United Nations take the lead,

should nobody take the lead,

haven't thought much about this

Q39

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in providing foreign assistance to other countries? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,

should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,

should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through international organizations like the United Nations & the World Bank,

should the United Nations & the World Bank take the lead,

should nobody take the lead,

haven't thought much about this

INTROQ40

INTROQ27

The following questions are going to describe some situations in which the U.S. might take military action in other countries. For each one, please select if you would support strongly, support somewhat, neither support nor oppose, oppose somewhat, oppose strongly, or haven't you thought much about this.

Q27

How about...

"American military action WITH UNITED NATIONS SUPPORT to prevent mass killings in foreign countries."

Do you...

support strongly,
support somewhat,
neither support nor oppose this,
oppose somewhat,
oppose strongly,
or haven't you thought much about this?

Q28

"American military action ACTING ALONE to prevent the spread of weapons of mass destruction to countries that might use them."

Do you...

support strongly,
support somewhat,
neither support nor oppose this,
oppose somewhat,
oppose strongly,
or haven't you thought much about this?

Q32A

Below are three different ways the U.S. might deal with international trade. Please select which you feel is the best option.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

to work with other countries one by one to establish agreements,
to work with groups of countries through international institutions like the World Trade Organization,
to leave things as they are,
haven't thought much about this

IF Q32A = 1,2,3

Q32B

Now of the remaining options, please select which you feel is the best.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

[Display Items NOT selected in Q32A]

Q33

What do you think we should do about free trade in the Americas -

repeal the North American Free Trade Agreement, called NAFTA,
leave NAFTA the way it is,
adopt agreements like NAFTA but with more Latin American countries,
haven't thought much about this

Q34

Do you think that making it easier to IMPORT foreign products into the U.S. means -

the LOSS OF many jobs in this country,
some jobs,
only a few jobs,
the loss of no jobs,
haven't thought much about this

Q35

Do you think that making it easier to EXPORT U.S. products to other countries means - the CREATION OF many jobs in this country,

some jobs,
only a few jobs,
the creation of no jobs,
haven't thought much about this

Q36

When it comes to trade barriers, would you say that the U.S. has -

higher trade barriers (than most other countries),
lower trade barriers (than most other countries),
about the same, or
haven't you heard anything about this?

Q37

Now we'd like you to think about reducing terrorism. Again using a scale from 0 to 10, where 0 is no importance at all, 10 is the most importance, and 5 is midway between, how much importance should the U.S. place on each of the following as ways of reducing FUTURE terrorism directed against the U.S.?

encouraging more democracy in Middle East countries like Egypt & Saudi Arabia?
increased foreign aid to countries that may be breeding grounds for terrorism?
adopting policies more favorable to the Palestinians?
building up our military capabilities?
working with other countries to identify & combat terrorism?
building up our intelligence capabilities?

Q38

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in trying to resolve international conflicts? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,
should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,
should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through the United Nations,
should the United Nations take the lead,
should nobody take the lead,
haven't thought much about this

Q39

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in providing foreign assistance to other countries? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,
should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,
should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through international organizations like the United Nations & the World Bank,
should the United Nations & the World Bank take the lead,
should nobody take the lead,
haven't thought much about this

Wave 2 Baseline and Follow-up Survey: Deliberative Online Poll

Deliberative Online Poll Phase 2 Baseline and Follow-up Survey Experimental and Control Group

(Experimental Group Only)

INTRO1

After this first survey is done, we'll ask you to participate in three online chat sessions over the next week and a half. Your scheduled weekday and times will be the same for each week.

You are scheduled to participate in the following sessions:

It is very important that you attend each of these sessions. If you have a scheduling conflict, we encourage you to make the chat session a priority. If you are absolutely unable to attend a chat session, please contact deliberativepoll@knowledge networks.com immediately. Please note this may affect your eligibility to participate in the project.

Below are three different ways the U.S. might deal with international trade. Please select which you feel is the best option.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

to work with other countries one by one to establish agreements,
to work with groups of countries through international institutions like the World Trade Organization,
to leave things as they are,
haven't thought much about this

IF Q32A = 1,2,3

Q32B

Now of the remaining options, please select which you feel is the best.

In dealing with international trade, is it better for the U.S. -

[Display Items NOT selected in Q32A]

Q33

What do you think we should do about free trade in the Americas -

repeal the North American Free Trade Agreement, called NAFTA,
leave NAFTA the way it is,
adopt agreements like NAFTA but with more Latin American countries,
haven't thought much about this

Q34

Do you think that making it easier to IMPORT foreign products into the U.S. means -

the LOSS OF many jobs in this country,
some jobs,

Q36

When it comes to trade barriers, would you say that the U.S. has -

higher trade barriers (than most other countries),
lower trade barriers (than most other countries),
about the same, or
haven't you heard anything about this?

Q37

Now we'd like you to think about reducing terrorism. Again using a scale from 0 to 10, where 0 is no importance at all, 10 is the most importance, and 5 is midway between, how much importance should the U.S. place on each of the following as ways of reducing FUTURE terrorism directed against the U.S.?

encouraging more democracy in Middle East countries like Egypt & Saudi Arabia?

increased foreign aid to countries that may be breeding grounds for terrorism?

adopting policies more favorable to the Palestinians?

building up our military capabilities?

working with other countries to identify & combat terrorism?

building up our intelligence capabilities?

Q38

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in trying to resolve international conflicts? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,
should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,
should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through the United Nations,

should the United Nations take the lead,
should nobody take the lead,
haven't thought much about this

Q39

Generally speaking, who do you think should take the lead in providing foreign assistance to other countries? Should...

the U.S. take the lead acting by itself,
should the U.S. take the lead acting with close allies like NATO,
should the U.S. & its close allies take the lead acting through international organizations like the United Nations & the World Bank,

[RANDOMIZE LIST OF CANDIDATES, KEEP THIS RANDOMIZED ORDER FOR REST OF CANDIDATE LISTS]

Q19

The next section concerns your impressions of the various candidates running for President. First we have a set of questions about how you would describe some of these candidates. For each candidate we want to know first if the word "sincere" describes him extremely well, quite well, not too well, or not well at all? Please indicate your answer by checking the appropriate column for each candidate. Or if you don't feel you've seen enough of the candidate to say, just check "don't know."

Does "sincere" describe each candidate:

	Extremely well	Pretty well	Not too well	Not well at all	Don't know
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards
Joe Lieberman
Al Sharpton

Q20

The next word is "intelligent." Does intelligent describe each of them:

	Extremely well	Pretty well	Not too well	Not well at all	Don't know
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards
Joe Lieberman
Al Sharpton

Q21

Next, how well does "thinks like I do" describe each of them:

	Extremely well	Pretty well	Not too well	Not well at all	Don't know
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards
Joe Lieberman
Al Sharpton

Q22

Next, we'd like to get your feelings toward the presidential candidates using what is sometimes called a "feeling thermometer." Ratings between 50 degrees and 100 degrees mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the candidates. Ratings between 0 degrees and 50 degrees mean that you don't feel favorable that you don't care too much for that candidate. You would rate the candidate at the 50 degree mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold. If you don't know enough to rate a given candidate, just check "can't say."

	0 - 100	Can't Say
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt

Q25

Now we'd like you to think about some important issues. Some people think the federal government should provide fewer services such as health and education in order to lower taxes. Suppose these people are at one end of a scale, at point 1. Other people feel it is important for the federal government to provide more services even if it means higher taxes. Suppose these people are at the other end, at point 7. People who are exactly in the middle are at point 4, and of course other people have positions at points 2,3,5, or 6. Where would you place yourself on this scale, or haven't you thought much about this?

Fewer Services/ Lower Taxes						More Services/ Higher Taxes	Haven't thought about this
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Q26

Now, using the same scale, where would you place the following candidates? If you don't feel you know enough about a given candidate to say, just mark "Can't Say".

	Fewer Services/ Lower Taxes						More Services/ Higher Taxes	Can't Say
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards

Q27

Next think about the federal budget. Some people believe that we should spend much less money for defense and focus much more on solving domestic problems. Suppose these people are at one end of a scale, at point 1. Other people feel that defense spending should be greatly increased even if it means reduced spending on domestic problems. Suppose these people are at the other end, at point 7. People who are exactly in the middle are at point 4, and of course other people have positions at points 2,3,5, or 6. Where would you place yourself on this scale, or haven't you thought much about this?

Increase Defense Spending/ Decrease Domestic Spending						Decrease Defense Spending/ Increase Domestic Spending	Haven't thought about this
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Q28

Now, using the same scale, where would you place the following candidates? If you don't feel you know enough about a given candidate to say, just mark "Can't Say".

	Increase Defense Spending/ Decrease Domestic Spending						Decrease Defense Spending/ Increase Domestic Spending	Can't Say
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards
Joe Lieberman
Al Sharpton

Q29

Here's the next issue. Some people feel the United States should intervene militarily when its interests are threatened without working through international organizations such as the U.N and NATO. Other people feel that we should not intervene without first obtaining international approval and cooperation. Using the scale shown below, where would you place yourself, or haven't you thought much about this?

Intervene on our own						Intervene with UN approval	Haven't thought about this
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Q30

Now, using the same scale, where would you place the following candidates? If you don't feel you know enough about a given candidate to say, just mark "Can't Say".

	Intervene on our own						Intervene with UN approval	Can't Say
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
George W. Bush
Howard Dean
John Kerry
Wesley Clark
Richard Gephardt
John Edwards
Joe Lieberman
Al Sharpton

Here's the next one. Some people feel that we should pursue increased free trade even if we may lose some existing jobs. Other people feel that we should subsidize American industries even if that means we lose markets for our goods abroad. And of course, other people fall somewhere in between. Where would you place yourself on this issue, or haven't you thought much about this?

The next section concerns your impressions of the presidential candidates. First we have a set of questions about how you would describe the candidates. For example, we'd like to know first how well the word "sincere" describes each candidate—extremely well, pretty well, not too well, or not well at all? Please indicate your answer by checking the appropriate column for each candidate. Or if you don't feel you've seen enough of a given candidate to say how well "sincere" applies to him, just check "don't know."

Next, we'd like to get your feelings toward the presidential and vice presidential candidates using what is sometimes called a "feeling thermometer." Ratings between 50 degrees and 100 degrees mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the person. Ratings between 0 degrees and 50 degrees mean that you don't feel favorable, that you don't care too much for that person. You would rate the person at the 50 degree mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold toward him. If you don't know a person well enough to rate him, just check "can't say."

As you know, the 2004 Election season is fast on the approach. As a past participant in Decision 2004, we would like to thank you for your continued involvement. In preparation for the Fall chat sessions, we recently sent you a CD intended to inform you about the main presidential candidates and important issues that will be at the center of the November 2004 presidential election.

If you installed the CDROM but have not yet uploaded the file, please take a moment to do so now. The process is very simple, requires only a single click, and is completely harmless to your system. In order to upload this file, first make sure that you are connected to the Internet (this process cannot be performed through WebTV). Insert the CD into your computer and, once the disc has loaded, click on the "Knowledge Networks (KN)" logo at the bottom left corner of the screen. This link will automatically send the information to our servers; no further action is necessary. Once this has been completed, please continue with this survey.

If you already have uploaded the file, or if you do not have an Internet connection from the computer on which the CD is installed, please feel free to proceed with the survey at this time.

Q2. Next, we'd like to get your feelings toward some public figures and groups using what is sometimes called a "feeling thermometer." Ratings between 50 degrees and 100 degrees mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the person. Ratings between 0 degrees and 50 degrees mean that you don't feel favorable that you don't care too much for that person. You would rate the person at the 50 degree mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold toward him. If you don't know a person well enough to rate him, just check "can't say."

	0 - 100	Can't Say
George W. Bush
John Kerry
Donald Rumsfeld
Ted Kennedy
Rush Limbaugh
Bill Clinton
The Republican Party
The Democratic Party

Q3a. Now we'd like you to think about some other important issues. Some people think the federal government should provide fewer services such as health and education in order to lower taxes. Suppose these people are at one end of a scale, at point 1. Other people feel it is important for the federal government to provide more services even if it means higher taxes. Suppose these people are at the other end, at point 7. People who are exactly in the middle are at point 4, and of course other people have positions at points 2, 3, 5, or 6. Where would you place yourself on this scale, or haven't you thought much about this?

Fewer Services/ Lower Taxes						More Services/ Higher Taxes	Haven't thought much about this
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

[HORIZONTAL SCALE: RADIO BUTTON]

[GRID: RADIO BUTTONS ACROSS/DOWN]

Q3b. Now, using the same scale, where would you place the presidential candidates? If you don't feel you know enough about a given candidate to say, just mark "Can't Say".

	Fewer Services/ Lower Taxes						More Services/ Higher Taxes	Can't Say
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
George W. Bush
John Kerry

Q4a. Here's the next issue. Some people feel the United States should feel free to intervene militarily when its interests are threatened without necessarily working through international organizations such as the U.N and NATO. Other people feel that we should not intervene without first obtaining international approval and cooperation. Using the scale shown below, where would you place yourself, or haven't you thought much about this?

Intervene on our own						Intervene with approval & cooperation	Haven't thought much about this

Q5a. Here's the next one. Some people feel that we should pursue free trade even if that means some current American jobs are lost to companies abroad. Other people feel that we should protect American industries even if that means we lose markets for our goods abroad. And of course other people fall somewhere in between. Where would you place yourself on this issue, or haven't you thought much about this?

Pursue Free Trade						Protect US Industries	Haven't thought much about this

Q6a. Here's the next one. There is concern these days about medical and hospital costs. Some people feel there should be a government plan to cover all medical and hospital expenses for everyone. Suppose these people are at one end of a scale, at point 1. Other people feel that all medical and hospital expenses should be paid by individuals or private insurance companies. Suppose these people are at the other end, at point 7. And, of course, some other people have opinions somewhere in between, at points 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6. Where would you place yourself on this issue, or haven't you thought much about this?

Govt. plan						Private plans	Haven't thought much about this
